VERMONT ELECTION.

Vermont is one of the States in which buglass was, according to the boasting of his followers, making enormous gains. In his quest of his mother, and in his search for the grave of his father," he visited Vermont, and repeated that same old speech half a dozen times, more or less, within its borders. The election has just been held, and the result of it shows the utter emptiness of Douglas boasting, but the steady, coward, triumphant march of the Republican ides. The little band of so-called Democrats has been again decimated by the saving grace of Republican truth; and though a few of them, with courage which would be praiseworthy in a better cause, still hold out. A few years more and are a speeced as the proposed of his speeced in the grave of his man of them will be left.

still hold out. A few years more and not a man of them will be left.—
Four years of Republican rule will convert the last one; or if any should remain blind and deaf, they will leave the State.

The noisy fellows who do Mr. Douglas wind work in the West, may be assured that the reform in which Vermont is engaged will go on elsewhere with accelerated spee3, until the system of fraud, hypocrisy, tyranny and Atheism, which men now call Democracy, is made powerless in American politics, if it be more utterly uprooted in the American mind and until the ideas for which the fathers fought, are restored to their old supremacy in our national legislation.

lied on, the peace of Europe, will not be of a month's duration. The Emperor of Austria lives in the conviction that if Naples falls, Rome goes next, and that his Venetian province is sure to follow. That he will, without resistance, permit that consummation is grossly improbable; and that France and Begland will permit his further interference for the purpose of forcing upon the Italians a government that they loathe is more improbable still. In any event, the solution of the Italian question, now assuming its just proportions, cannot long be delayed. Diplomacy may win a new victory by the preservation of peace; but to he uninitiated in the miceties of European politice, war never seemed so imminent before.

the besieged in Quebec, to terrify the army of while on the lished of St. Lowis, appeared suddenly before us whenever we proposed to consider in good earnest, the subject of Federal slarvey.

We love, and we ought to love the followship of our slarveholding brethree. How natural, therefore, has it been to make the concessions no necessary to silence their complaints, rather thought a matter.

WHAT EINCOLN WILL DO.

Finally, I counsel that return becomes a statesman has been designated who possesses, in an eminent and most entitled toy degree, the virtues and the qualifications necessary for the leader in so great and geterous a movement; and I feel will assured that Assurant Lincoux will not full to re-insurgurate the ancient constitutional policy in the administration of the government successfully, because the Republican party, after ample experience, has at last acquired the courage and the constitution of the government successfully, because I am astinfied that the people, at last fully convinced of the wisdom and necessity of the proposed reformation, are prepared to austain and give it affect.

But when it shall have been accomplished, what may we expect then; what dangers must we suffer? I answer no dangers, disasters or calamities. All parties will acquisace, because it will be the act of the people, in the exercise of their sovereign pow r, in conformity with the external principles of Justice, and the benignant spirit of the age in which we live. All parties and all sections will althe rejoice in the settlement of a controversy, which has agitated the country and disturbed its peace so long. We shall regain the respect and good will of the Nations, and once more consistent with our principles, and with our ancient character, we shall, with their free consent, take our places at their head, in their advancing progress, towards a higher and more happy, because more humans and more genial civiliration.

leader, we will fight with as much seal for the glorious old champion of Illinois as if he had been our first choice; and we exhort our Western brethren to go and do likewise. There is not a particle of reliance to be placed upon stories—fabrications all—of the Atlassad Argue of indications of strength in the Damocracy of this State. We shall best them—divided or united—by a very large majority, as Governor Saward will tell you when you see him. If the Great West will do as well for her caudidate as will New York and the Eastern States, he is already sure of a triumphant election by the people."

count of the progress of the good weak in that State:

In every county in the State, so far as we have been able to learn, the Republican flag is waving recounty over our disconcerted opponents. We know the seatiments of a large majority of the copie of Minnesota are in favor of free speech, free homes, free men, and strongly in favor of elevating Abraham Lincoln to the high office of Fresident of the United States. We appeak by the card when we say, that as our as the ides of November come, when a fell and frank expression of the intelligent public opinion of the State is given, just an ourtain will that expression to on the state fighth, Justice, Humanity—Lincoln and Hamim. Throughout the citate there are hundreds of may have have never yet voted other than with the D. mecracy, but in the present distracted state of their party, and the want of confidence in their party leaders, will vote with the Republicant tail.

The population of the country is again decreasing. Many are leaving for the States; some for New Mexico, and a very few for the gold mines of the Gila and the airver mines of Arisons.

Of those who return to the States, probably, one-half are discouraged and go to their homes with the design of remaining there. Of the remainder, many expect to return to this country in the spring, and a few will come back yet this fall. John C. Hsenan and John Morrissey will pontitively fight again before the 4th day of March next. It is a very well known iact, that the encounter between these two men at Long Point.
Canaca, terminated in the defeat of Heepan, which defeat was said by his friends, to be ow-Among the overland emigrants who re-cently passed through Salt Lake City were fif-teen unmarried ladies dressed a Bloomer con-tume. They called upon Brigham Young, visited his gardens and grounds, and expressed much gratification at their reception. They on the part of their man, but solely to his lack of condition.

When Heenan returned from England bere he was speedily engaged by Measra. Herry Wood and James M. Nixon, to travel through the country for three months, in company with Cusick and McDonald, his two trainers, and certain other puglists of note, to give sparring exhibitions.

Heenan has been ever anxious to press another encounter with his old conqueror, and Morrissey is the one that has held off—doubtiess he has been making too much money, this summer, to care to leave his business and devote two or three months to severe training. And, at present, it seems that Heenan's engagement with Measrs. Wood and Nixon will bind him for two months longer. and were going to Oregon.

— The Paris correspondent of the Boston Traveler says that Miss Binds, a daughter of our Consul at Leghorn, carried off a prize at the French Conservatory the other day. She has been studying under Mons. Beauvallet of the French Comedy, and is said to possess great talents as a tragic actrees. Mine, Ristori has as high an opinion of her historic abilities as Mons. Beauvallet. She plays in Italian and French, and thinks of appearing on the stage in Paris next Winter.

stage in Paris next Winter.

A gathering of the Andrews family was held at Wallingford, Conn., on Thursday las. The family is a very large one, having representatives in every State of the Union, from many of which members were present on this pleasant occasion. The first of when he memering pleasant occasion. The first of when he memering rated to this country in 1630, and of two brothers who remained here—one returning to England—one settled, at Boxford, Mass., and the other at New Haven, Conn. They are the ancestors probably of all who hear this well known name in this country.

The promised duel, which was to take with Messrs. Wood and Nixon will bind him for two months longer:

As soon, however, as this period has passed, the challenge from Heenan to Morrissey will positively appear. The sporting world may look for it by the 10th of November next. It will be immediately coepied by Morrissey, and both parvises will then go into active training, although it is true that even now both men are in training.

By the assertion, we do not mean to say in training.

By this assertion, we do not mean to say that they have given themselves up to those preparations which are necessary for a battle so recupilly contested as this one will be; but Morrissey, while at Saratoga, has been in the habit of taking his regular exercise on the little trotting course at that place, and has been for the last three months accompanied by a man who has jacted as a trainer, and with whom Morrissy has had, and till does have, a settle very morning, or at such intervals as may be friend, the undersigned here come to crisis in revolantions regarding a recent publication in The Atlanta Confederacy, by Dr. L. C. Belt, and a reply thereto in the Savannah papers of the 22d inst, by Col. H. R. Jackson, the result of which is that Dr. Belt withdraws every expression and charge personality offensive to Col. Jackson in the publication referred to, and Col. Jackson withdraws the denunciation against Dr. Belt in his card of reply.

L. Calleyov Bult., Henny R. Jackson. Savannah, August 25th, 1869. In conversation at Saratoga, one day last reek, Morrissey was asked: "Shall you fight Hecnan again?"

"Shall you fight Heenan again?"
He at once replied:
"I certainly shall, and I shall lick him, too."
He went on to say that he wanted the challeage to come from Heenan, as Heenan, having been defeated by Morrissy ought, of course, to issue the defiance. He said that he should at once accept the challenge, and, added he, "if you've got any money to bet on the event, put it on me, and I'll win it for you." He continued: "I am confident that I can lick this man.
Sayers would have licked him easy, if he had lought him as I shall fight him. He can't stand body punishment, and I shall give him my head to hammer away at, while I make my fighting at his body. I can outstay him, and I'll win the Succise.—Again it is our painful duty to record the death of another young and beautiful girl, who perished by her own hand, on Naturday evening last, August 25th, at the residence of her mother, in this city. The name of the decessed was Harvey. She was nearly eighteen years of age, loved and respected by all who

She produced strychnice at one of drug stores on that evening—she took antidote for sorrow—laid down, and die the Creek (Mich.) deffersonian, Sept 1. Morrissey is full of confidence, and wants only as he says, once more to face his old antagonist on the turf to teach him that that he is still his master. Morrissey has many friends, who are equally confident with himself, and who, with him will stake every dollar they can raise on the issues of the fight. Experienced fighting men also declare their belief that Morrissey will wis the flight, and they found their assertion on the same theory that is propunded by Morrissey, that Morrissey can stay longer than licenan, and can take all the punishment his adversary can inflict, and can then go in and lice him. the Creek (Mich.) 227 The Laporte Herald reports the death on Monday of last week, of a Mr. A. P. Stevenson, a young man of that county, near Marshall Grove, in Porter Co. He stepped on a threshing machine for some purpose, and socidentally slipped upon the cylinder, which drew him down, breaking his legs, and tearing out his bowsis, bringing the machine to a sudden stop. He lived long enough to give directions about taking him out, which was only done after the machine to the "Threshing" Demon, which has taken at least thirty strong industrious men in this State since harvest set in. three rounds, for he expressly stated to his backers that if he could not effect that consummation he could not win. He knew that after the first been struggle was over, his lack of condition would tell fearfully against him, as it proved. Accordingly he expended all his energies on the first two or three rounds, hoping to so far stun Morrissey by that tremendous cannonade of blows he administered to his head, that he would not be able after that time to face the scratch. Probably no skull in the world, other than Morrissey's, could have received that tremedous pounding, and have received from it to answer the call of "Time." But Morrissey did recover, did answer to the call, and Heenan failed, as he had predicted, and the result is known. Heenan afterward challenged Morrissey, but the defiance was not taken up, for reasons hereinbefore stated. From that eventful day to this, Heenan has been suxious to again confront his conqueror, and try once again the No. 05 Lake Street,
